Crowd lining streets estimated in the thousands

Rotary Carnival a success

by Creighton Feir

A crowd estimated in the thousands lined the parade route in Haliburton last Wednesday night to view what many people's opinion was one of the longest and best parades ever presented by the Rotary Club of Haliburton. It marked the beginning of the Rotary Club of Haliburton's annual two day summer carnival.

The monster parade which left Rotary Beach at 7:00 p.m. under overcast skies made its way up Victoria Street, turning left onto Pine Street then down the main street where it turned onto York Street and headed back to the Rotary Beach. Midway through the parade a light drizzle started to fall but this didn't dampen the spirits of the parade participants or the crowd that came out to view this annual extravaganza.

Local citizens and visitors alike were in the carnival mood and everyone whooped it up and came out for a good time to view the parade, have fun and meet their friends.

The crowd at this year's carnival was so large that there was hardly a parking space available and following the parade one of the biggest tie-ups of traffic this village has seen for some time occurred. It reminded one of rush hour on Yonge Street in Toronto. Several of the visitors remarked that this is without doubt one of the best small town parades in the Province of Ontario.

Best entry in the parade went to Haliburton Marine Ltd. of Haliburton who received the Wig-a-Mog Trophy. Best boys or girls entries: 1st - Camp Wanikita; 2nd -

Spray used under power lines safe, Hydro says

The use of herbicide sprays on power line right-of-ways presents no danger to either human or animal life, according to Ontario Hydro, which recently completed spraying operations under the high voltage tower line that crosses Haliburton County.

Hydro uses a herbicide known as 2,4,5-T, a chemical that sparked a furor in 1969, when it was used to defoliate the jungles of Viet Nam. The spray was found to contain dioxin, a highly dangerous substance that was linked to birth defects in Vietnamese infants. An advisory committee to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency studied the alleged links between dioxin in 2,4,5-T and birth defects, and found that it was highly unlikely any adverse effects to humans could be attributed to the use of the spray. It was recommended, however, that the spray be used prudently, but that its use on rights-of-way and in forestation should be allowed provided that the limit of dioxin be set at 0.1 parts per million, that it be applied no more than once a year, and that it be applied with caution so as not to contaminate other areas where it could come into contact with humans.

Hydro maintains that its spraying program falls well within the guidelines recommended in the Advisory Committee's report, and that spraying is essential to provide trouble free service to customers.

Baby, 7 weeks, asphyxiates in crib in Minden

A seven week old baby boy was found dead by its mother after it apparently suffocated in a pillow in the early hours of Saturday morning.

Dead is Derek Charles Walker, son of an Oshawa couple who had been staying at the Minden residence of Keith McIntosh. Police say the baby had been fed after midnight and placed in a crib. At about 9:30 a.m., the mother awoke and checked the baby and found the boy had died.

Coroner Dr. H. E. Good attended the scene and a post-mortem was conducted at the Peterborough Civic Hospital on Saturday afternoon.

Asphyxiation was found to be the cause of death.

Breaks windows, youth faces wilful damage charge

A West Guilford youth has been apprehended in connection with two windows being broken at Austins Esso in Minden Thursday morning.

Police say the incident occurred in the early morning hours on that day. The suspect was apprehended in the area shortly after the incident.

Charged with causing wilful damage is Barry T. Trotter.

Thieves break into home of MPP

The Lindsay home of Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins was the target of a thief or thieves recently, who broke into the home and stole a number of items.

The break-in at Eakin's home on Angeline Street South in Lindsay is reported to have taken place some time between Saturday the 29th and Monday the 31st of July.

Lindsay OPP are investigating the incident. Some $210 worth of articles were reported missing. A clock was also reported damaged as a result of the break-in.

According to a press release from Hydro's Barrie office, application of 2,4,5-T "is done in accordance with the federal ministries of Health and Agriculture, the provincial Ministry of the Environment, and the Ontario Pesticide Advisory Committee, and meets the requirements of the Health and Safety division. The herbicides used must, by law, be formulated from technical material containing less than 0.1 parts per million of dioxin. This level has been determined by medical and regulatory officials as being a safe one."

The release notes that "Hydro has been following a policy of applying herbicides selectively along right-of-ways because eventually it results in a vegetation cover that is nearly maintenance free and reduces expenses in keeping right-of-ways clear."

Bob Richmond, Forestry

Supervisor for Hydro's Barrie office, said in an interview Tuesday that the recent spraying under towers in Haliburton County is the first time in ten years it has been carried out here.

Richmond said on the average Hydro budgets for a five year spraying cycle on its small pole, rural service lines, but that as the age of the right-of-way increases, the need for spraying decreases.

The spraying kills large trees and shrubs, but has little or no effect on grasses and ferns. Junipers, dogwoods and other slow growing conifers are not sprayed, and in time, species of low growing vegetation which do not hinder power lines come to dominate the right-of-ways.

Richmond said Hydro has experimented with planting and seeding programs to provide ground cover under

Hyland Lumber robbed for the second time

Thieves hold dog at bay with axe handles

Thieves used axe handles to beat off a German Shepherd dog and got away with tools valued at $260 last Wednesday night following a break-in at the Hyland Lumber Wiseway outlet in Haliburton.

It was the second time in recent weeks that Hyland Lumber has been hit by thieves.

At least two people entered the rear of the Hyland Lumber building and attempted to enter the store through a ground floor door. The German Shepherd, pet of Richard Biagi, one of the owners of Hyland Lumber, apparently met the thieves at the door, forcing them to seek another way into the main part of the building. The thieves barricaded the ground floor door with cases of nails, then used a ladder to reach an office window on the upper floor overlooking a rear storage area. The thieves rifled desks and ransacked the offices, apparently in search of money.

Police believe one person kept the dog at bay on the stairway leading to the offices while the other searched for money. A door had been removed from one of the offices and used to block the top of the stairway.

Finding no money in the office, the thieves apparently made their way down stairs and into the main part of the store, keeping the dog at bay with axe handles. There were signs of a struggle along one aisle of the store, and a number of tools were missing.

The thieves then made their way back up the stairs to the offices and down the ladder. An adding machine was left near the window, as though the thieves had intended to take it, but were for some reason unable to do so.

The theft was discovered when the owners arrived Thursday morning.

Despite the apparent struggle, the dog was not injured.

Scott Raybould, identification sergeant with the Peterborough district of the OPP was at the scene Thursday morning along with Minden OPP constable Roy Telford, examining the office for fingerprints and other clues to the identity of the thieves.

Damage to the window was estimated at $2, while the value of the tools stolen was estimated at $260.

The theft remains under investigation.

Thieves forced an office window to gain entry to Hyland Lumber last Wednesday night. $260 worth of tools were stolen. Sergeant Scott Raybould of the OPP special investigation branch is shown here dusting the office windowsill for fingerprints.

Residential taxes up 4.18 percent

Dysart et al sets 1978 budget

Total residential mill rates will rise 4.18 percent for Dysart et al taxpayers this year, despite the fact that the municipal portion of the tax load is actually 10.57 percent less than it was last year.

The total of municipal expenditures in the 1978 budget approved by Dysart et al council Tuesday is up by some $250,000. The municipal mill rate has fallen, however, as a result of an increase in general support and resource equalization grants from the provincial and federal governments.

The municipal portion of residential taxes has been set at 68.5 mills, or 8.1 mills less than last year. The county portion of the tax bill is up by .37 mills this year to 35.8 mills from 35.43 mills last year. Largest increase is in the education portion of the tax bill, at 162.55 mills, up 18.45 mills from last year's rate of 144.10 mills. Total residential tax increases are 10.78 mills or 4.18 percent.

The commercial tax rate will rise by 11.48 mills or 3.91 percent this year. Municipal portion of the commercial tax bills will be 80.60 mills, down 9.51 mills from last year's 90.11 mills. County portion is 42.10 mills or .43 mills more than last year's 41.67 mills. Education portion is 180.61 mills up by 20.50 mills or 12.8 percent. Total commercial tax increase is 3.91 percent.

Largest single increase in municipal expenditure is in transportation services where costs are up from $467,000 last year to $625,000 this year. Most of that amount is subsidized by government grants.

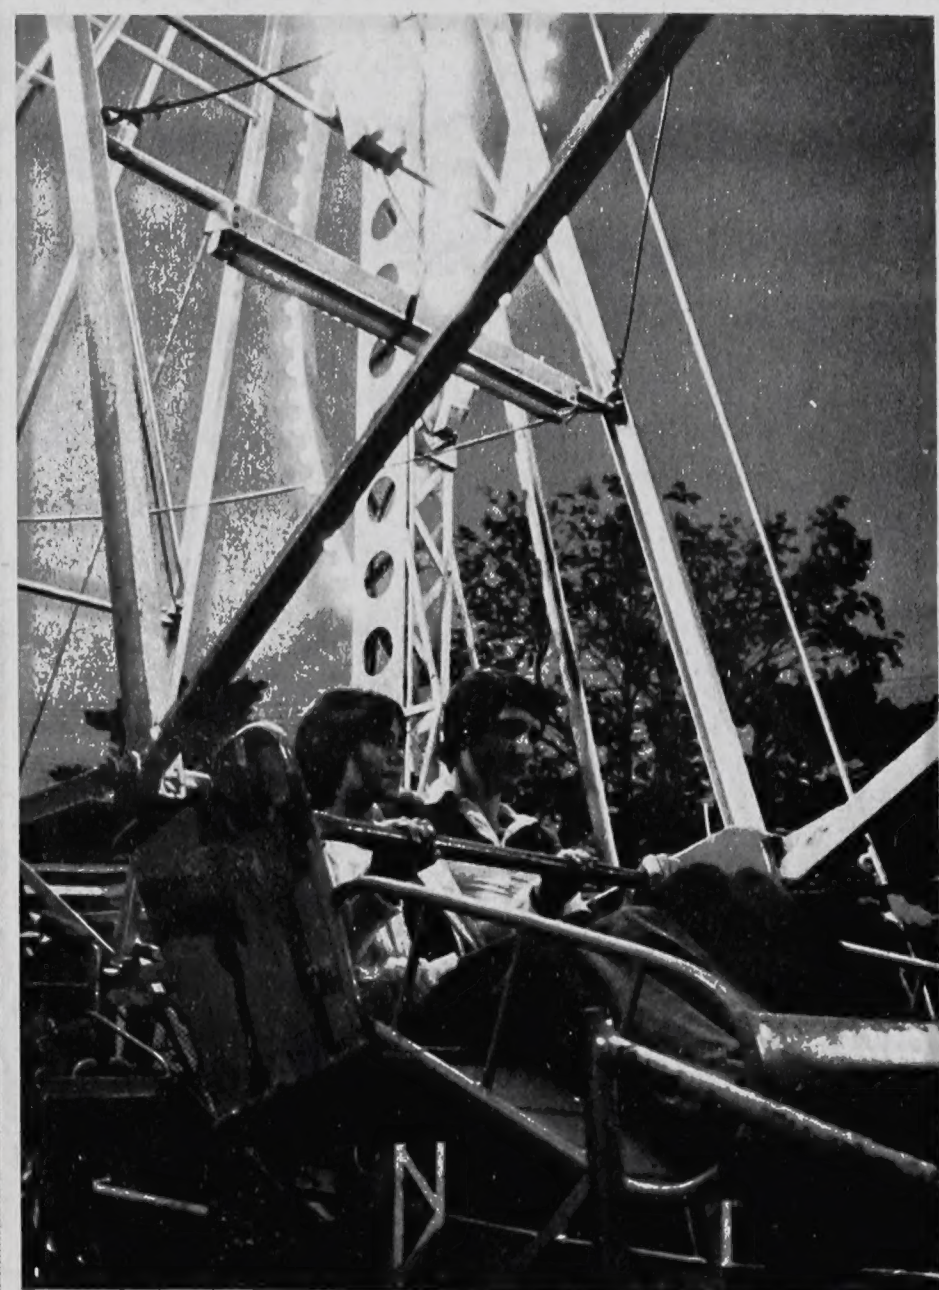

The only other major change in the budget is an additional allotment of funds to be used for the proposed Haliburton Lakefront Park, and for Glebe Park on the shores of Head Lake. $40,000 has been allotted for the lakefront park in the 1978 budget, with $10,000 slotted for Glebe and other parks in the municipality.

Total budget for the municipality approved Tuesday is $2,214,528, up approximately $214,000 from 1977 actual expenditures of $2,000,776.98.

The ferris wheel was a popular ride with the throngs of people who attended the Rotary Carnival in Haliburton last Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Spray is safe, Hydro says tower line right-of-ways in some areas of the province, but that the program has not been carried out in Haliburton County. But such programs "are never 100 percent successful" according to Richmond, and "at the present time, we will never completely eliminate spraying," because no grass has yet been found that can keep other plant growth from taking root on the right-of-ways.

The spraying does not present a health hazard even to people who might pick and eat berries growing on right-of-ways that have recently been sprayed, Richmond said.

"From what we are told, the concentration (of dioxin) is really so small that even if people picked the berries immediately after the spraying, there wouldn't be any detrimental effect."

Richmond said Hydro has considered selective cutting as an alternative to herbicide application, but that "it costs ten times more than long term spraying."

"In the past we have attempted, in highly visible areas, to get people to cut the brush". However, Richmond said, few people are interested in cutting on a long term basis, and cutting programs operated in Algonquin Park by the Ministry of Natural Resources had to be curtailed because of lack of funds.

"The beauty of spraying is that once you start cutting, suckering begins. Eventually, if you continued cutting, you would end up with a mass of brush" on right-of-ways. As well, he said, the cutting would have to be carried out in three or four year cycles, adding significantly to the cost of electricity.

"In theory, in 25 years from now we will have almost eliminated the need for spraying, but cutting would go on forever and a day."

The spraying program has met with opposition in some quarters however, and this year, the council of the Muskoka Lakes District voted to ban any kind of spraying in the area of its jurisdiction. It is expected that the ban will cost each customer in the Muskoka Lakes district $17-30 on Hydro bills.

Though Hydro considers its spraying program to be safe, Richmond admitted that someone may some day find there is a long term danger inherent in the use of a herbicide like 2,4,5-T.

"All we can do now is go with the best technological information available to us", Richmond said. "Everyone feels it's a safe chemical."

"Eventually, you weigh all the risks in your mind and you make a decision. You go ahead with it."

Hydro is making an effort to minimize the visual effect of the spraying however, Richmond said.

"We're leaving more trees at river, road and lake crossings so that people don't see large expanses of clear cut right-of-ways."

Power was cut off, store owner is angry

The owner of a Haliburton grocery store will be sending a registered letter to Ontario Hydro complaining of "unfair treatment" because the company shut the store's power off for 73 minutes last week.

The power shutdown was necessary to replace transformers to facilitate supplying power to the new IGA store. However, Mike Easton of Easton's Red and White is angry at the company for picking a bad time to do the job.

"They've known since April that this needed to be done," and they pick the middle of the day during the busiest time of the year. It's a shabby way to run an operation," Easton said.

Easton says Hydro originally told him that the transformers would be replaced in the early morning - around 6:30 a.m., but operations didn't start until 10:00 a.m.

"They shut us down for 73 minutes exactly, which took us into noon - the busiest time of the day."

When Easton talked to Ontario Hydro's area manager prior to the operation, the area manager advised Easton "to get a back-up generator."

Afterwards, Easton telephoned Ontario Hydro's lawyer and was told that the store wasn't obligated to use electricity supplied by Hydro.

"They could have done it three months ago and it wouldn't have mattered."

Easton says he intends to contact John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton and will be preparing a registered letter to send to Ontario Hydro complaining of "the poor treatment."

Don Finn, Easton's lawyer, advised him to send the letter. "The hydro company doesn't like to get egg in their faces. They're sort of the kings of the castle, and if there's enough public opinion or complaining, then they're going to have to change their ways," Easton said.

Glamorgan gets $2,950 grant for Gooderham park

A $2,950 Ontario grant will be used by the Township of Glamorgan towards the purchase of a three-acre parcel of land adjoining Glamorgan Approved Park, Natural Resources Minister Frank Miller said.

The 14-acre park is situated on the Burnt River in the Hamlet of Gooderham. It is on the south side of Highway 503 where it intersects Highway 507.

Identical cars collide head on, on County road 15 Sunday

In an odd twist of events three people were injured, one seriously, when two cars of exactly the same colour, make, model and year collided on the crest of a hill Sunday morning.

Police say that Thomas Horton, 22, of Agincourt was southbound on County Road #15 when he met the car of Gary Casey, 22, of Wilberforce, on the crest of a hill. The two cars, both 1978 Firebird Trans Ams, collided head-on.

The two men were treated for minor injuries. A passenger in Casey's car, Cathy Anew, 21, of Wilberforce, is being treated at Haliburton's Red Cross Hospital for major injuries.

Casey has been charged with failing to wear a seat belt while Horton has been charged with driving to the left of centre.

Both cars sustained $2,000 damage.

Six people were injured two seriously, when their eastbound car which was being pursued by an OPP cruiser went out of control and struck a hydro pole on Water Street in Minden Saturday morning.

The driver, Ronald Hall,

21, of Richmond Hill has been charged with dangerous and careless driving after the car apparently entered the south ditch and struck a hydro pole. The car then struck a fire hydrant and rolled over.

James Fitzpatrick, 25, of Richmond Hill, and James Elder, 24, of Mississauga both sustained major injuries as a result of the crash and are being treated at the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

Damage to Hall's car is estimated at $2000 damage.

A Haliburton man has been charged with failing to share half the roadway after his eastbound vehicle collided with a westbound vehicle on a curve Friday morning.

Charged is Roddy Consack, 18, after his car collided with that of Peter Poulos, 50, of Scarborough on a curve along Koshlong Lake Road.

Damage to both cars is estimated at $500.

A 19 year old Agincourt man has been charged with careless driving after his car slammed into the back of another on Riverside Drive in Haliburton Saturday night.

Charged is Jeffrey Fader after he failed to stop in time behind the car of Roy Burk, 24 of Haliburton.

Damage to Burk's vehicle is estimated at $200, while Fader's car sustained $800 damage.

A Georgetown man has been charged with making an improper left-hand turn and failing to allow time to avoid collision after his car was struck broadside by another vehicle Saturday morning.

George Louth, 73, was turning left onto Bobcaygeon Road heading northbound when a southbound car driven by Allen Lucas, 25 of Whitby struck Louth's vehicle.

Lucas' car sustained $800 damage, while damage to Louth's car is estimated at $200.

A 29 year old North West Territories man escaped without injury after his westbound vehicle went out of control, entered a north ditch and struck a sign Saturday afternoon.

As a result of the accident, Phillip Dorling's car sustained $1450 damage.

A 72 year old Toronto woman was charged with careless driving when her vehicle which was northbound on Highway #35, entered a ditch and struck some rocks Thursday afternoon.

Jorothy Laughlin escaped with minimal injuries.

Hit by boat, youth hurt

A Scarborough youth suffered major injuries after the vessel he was piloting was hit by another vessel on Twelve Mile Lake Saturday afternoon.

Kenneth McEachern suffered lacerations to his stomach and his side after another Scarborough youth, Craig Noble, 16, struck McEachern's craft - a Kawasaki Jet Ski - with a similar craft.

Noble was following McEachern on one Jet Ski when McEachern turned sharply about and was struck broadside by Noble.

McEachern is reported in good condition at Lindsay General Hospital.

Motorcycles are stolen

Two motorcycles worth a total value of $2592.00 were taken from the rear of an Allsaw man's home during the early morning hours on Friday.

The victim, David S. Dodd, owner of the Allsaw General Store, told police that the two vehicles were parked behind his residence on the Thursday and were gone when he checked on them during Friday morning. Dodd added that he had shown the bikes to someone who appeared to have an interest in them just the day before the incident occurred.

Both motorcycles were Suzuki trail bikes.

Filmmakers still need local people

The first day of filming of the movie 'Summer Camp' near Haliburton went ahead successfully and everyone involved in Monday's scenes "was really into everything," said the movie's producer, Dan Goldberg.

"But," he added, "we're still scouring Haliburton for some more local kids and adults who want to be in the film."

Several Haliburton youths and adults have already been signed to appear in various scenes in the film. Auditions were held on Friday, July 28 at the Molou Theatre.

Players Theatres, and by a number of private investors, Goldberg said.

The feature, Goldberg said, is a comedy, with "a sort of Bad News Bears go to Summer Camp theme" and will revolve around the rivalry between two fictional camps, Camp Northstar (the good guys) and Camp Mowhawk (the bad guys).

Filming will continue until September 11, when it's expected the film will be completed.

A production crew of about 55 people are staying at a lodge in the Haliburton area for the duration of the film. The crew is also hoping to rent three cottages in the area that will be used to house the stars.

Anyone interested in auditioning for a part in the film should contact Linda Beachli at 457-2973 or Dan Goldberg on location at 457-1984.

Delivery driver who robbed Haliburton Marine given suspended sentence

A delivery company driver who walked out of Haliburton Marine with $710, April 10, was convicted of theft over $200 when he appeared in provincial court in Lindsay last week.

"There are still several things I can't mention at least, not yet," said Goldberg when he was asked who was starring in the film.

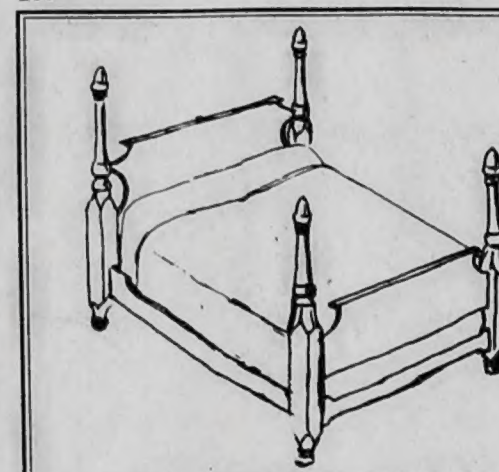

The movie is being shot at a camp near Haliburton village, and Goldberg said "the kids at the camp are really excited about the whole thing. They're having a ball."

Several locations in the village will be used during the filming. The Molou Theatre and Mark's Coffee Shop are among some of the places slated to be used as sets.

The film is being financed by the Canadian Film Development Corporation, Famous Provincial Court Judge George Inrig sentenced Johnson last week to a two year suspended sentence, and ordered him to keep the peace and be on good behaviour.

The judge noted that a pre-sentence report on Johnson had been favourable, and that although the accused had access to certain areas in businesses without question by virtue of his position, the matter was clearly one of theft.

Is it necessary?

In recent weeks, crews from Ontario Hydro have been spraying trees and other vegetations along Hydro's power line right-of-ways across the county. It is a program that is carried out province wide and it is one which the company maintains is essential for the uninterrupted transmission of power.

The chemical that Hydro uses in its spraying program, 2,4,5-T, contains trace amounts of Dioxin, a chemical that came under widespread attack when its use by the United States to defoliate the jungles of Viet Nam was linked to birth defects among the children of Vietnamese mothers. Hydro maintains that the level of Dioxin in 2,4,5-T is extremely low, and that it presents absolutely no danger to either human or animal life. It also maintains that the spraying program is essential for uninterrupted service, and that other forms of vegetation control, such as hand cutting of brush and trees under the lines, would result in an increased cost to the consumer.

While Hydro's statements are backed up with the testimony of various scientific experts, and while the evidence would seem to indicate that there is no danger to humans from the spraying program, the fact that spraying is both common and widespread should give us pause.

There is no question that Hydro is acting responsibly both in using chemicals that have been approved by other government bodies, and by remaining open to questioning on the matter. But the whole concept of the constant use of chemicals to accomplish work that might have been done by human hands ought to be rethought.

No one can deny the benefits that have accrued to mankind from the use of chemical fertilizers and pest and weed control sprays. They have made it possible for food to be produced in ever increasing amounts, and have contributed to the elimination of certain diseases through the destruction of harmful insects.

Yet a difficulty arises when we begin to think not in the short term, or in economic terms, but in terms of the potential danger to future generations, as well as our own, that the continued use of sprays represents.

It is no doubt true that there is no immediate danger to humans resulting from the use of herbicides of the type that Hydro applies under its wires. But the long term effects of spraying cannot be gauged in the present, and though science says the spray is safe at the moment, science has been known to change its mind on such matters.

There was a time when DDT was heralded as one of man's greatest tools. Today, DDT has been banned, because its effects were found to be harmful after continued use.

We have come to depend absolutely on the judgement of science when it comes to questions about the validity of the use of chemical sprays, and we have heard arguments both for and against their use from many quarters. But a healthy scepticism among ordinary citizens may go a long way in promoting the need to rethink the use of chemical sprays in situations where an alternative exists. And in the case of Hydro's spraying, an alternative does exist.

It may well be that it would cost more to have the brush that grows under Hydro lines removed by hand, and that the cost would have to be passed on to consumers. It may also be, however, that in a time of high unemployment, and in a time when the risks of chemicals are being revealed almost daily, the spraying of foliage under hydro lines ought to be rethought. We must monitor the use of chemicals carefully, and we must put pressure on the government to use alternatives where those alternatives exist. If human resources can be used in the place of chemicals, those resources should be tapped.

No application of chemicals is without risk, and those risks are often not fully understood. Occasionally, the risks are not recognized until irreparable harm has been done.

Spraying may be essential in some circumstances, but there are other alternatives in other circumstances, and all of us have a responsibility to see that those alternatives are properly explored.

It may cost a little more to do things another way, but the savings may be immeasurable if a potentially harmful situation is avoided.

Fair exchange

In days clouded with the spectre of a deteriorating economy, both within the county and outside it, there may yet be a little light.

The evidence comes from the Rotary Club of Haliburton, who at last week's two day carnival, took in more money than at any carnival previously. Even taking into account the effects of inflation on the dollar, it would seem that there are still a great many people willing to part with their cash for an evening of fun and entertainment.

It may be of course that the success of the carnival came not because things aren't all that bad, but rather because they are all that bad. It may be that people are so upset with the state of the economy that they are happy to spend their money just to get away from thoughts of gloom and doom for an evening.

Whatever the case may be, those who spent their money at the Haliburton Rotary Carnival were not disappointed, and the money they spent will be used for good causes in the community. It was a good deal for both sides.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

With the news filled up with the canoe tragedy, up on a northern lake, when thirteen young lives were snuffed out, I feel that I would like to make a few comments about canoes and canoeing.

A canoe of the proper proportions to me (not all of them are), is a thing of beauty. They are easy to transport and provide a wonderful means of water travel either for pleasure or work; a safe way as well, if the rules of canoeing are followed. I saw a picture in the Haliburton County Echo of a group of Haliburton boys going on a canoe trip up to Algonquin Park about May 24. One canoe had a boy sitting in the stern of the canoe and the paddler sitting on the middle thwart with his knees out in front of him. He was blissfully paddling along and it could easily be seen by the picture, that the canoe knew more about him than he knew about the canoe.

To start off with a thwart is not a seat. The thwarts in a canoe (a canoe being of frail construction), are built into the craft to strengthen as well as to keep the sides from springing in or out. Never to be used as a seat. A paddler must paddle with his knees resting on the bottom of the canoe; if a passenger is along he or she must sit flat on the bottom, thereby giving the canoe a low centre of gravity. If two paddlers paddle while sitting on the thwarts, the canoe becomes top heavy and then the canoe becomes a floating death trap.

The tragedy that happened to the boys from St.

John's school happened without a doubt, because the teachers or leaders were not qualified to direct a canoe outing of that size.

Had the head master of St. John's school gone up into the north country, and hired some old guy that had lived in with and by a canoe for 25 or 30 years, that old guy would have known how to load, instruct the boys and leader how to paddle and would also have known how much wind and wave a canoe could live in.

Perhaps he would not have been able to read or write but he sure as hell would have known all about a canoe.

He would have learned his craft in that old school of hard knocks.

Most people never think of how ruthless mother nature can be; she lays in wait for those that do not know her. Like Robt. Service wrote in one of his poems about the wild, (Ever the weak shall perish and only the strong survive). In closing I would just like to stress, never ever sit on the thwarts of a canoe while paddling.

The Commonwealth Games began last week amid the pomp and ceremony that accompanies major athletic gatherings these days, and though I saw only a few minutes of those ceremonies, I have tried to see as much of what has followed them as I could. And I have been sorely disappointed. It's not that the competition has been poor. On the contrary, there have been moments of drama and excellence that have held my attention entirely. I can only say moments though, because that is all anyone outside of Edmonton has been able to see. I am disappointed not with the games themselves or with the athletes, but with the abysmal coverage they have been given and continue to receive from the CBC. Our national network, it seems, has some of the worst sportscasters and commentators to be seen anywhere. They continually tell us what happened, or what will happen, but they seldom show us what is happening. It's maddening, it's frustrating and it's inexcusable.

The Commonwealth Games have been touted as the friendly games, the games where athletes from countries which are more or less allied on the world political scene get together to compete against each other. The CBC however, is determined that the idea of athlete against athlete should not be taken too far. No, the Games are, and it would seem are doomed to remain, as much a political as an athletic event. The CBC has seized upon them as an opportunity to promote nationalism, and the commentators are determined to use every event to that end. There has to be a running tally kept of how many medals Canada has won, as if each of us, sitting in our livingrooms, has the right to feel some sense of national pride because a swimmer in Pointe Claire or Etobicoke has had the perseverance and determination to train up to 16 hours a day for the past few years; as if we played a part in the effort that goes into making a winning bicycle rider or an excellent gymnast. And Canadians must lap it up. Why else would the CBC continually push it all upon us?

The truth, of course, is that you and I have had precious little to do with the accomplishments of any of those athletes. Few of them have received government support of any kind.

Each athlete at the Games has striven hard to be there, and each has worked long and tiring hours to accomplish something. Be they Canadian, Kenyan, Australian, Indian or Gambian, the athletes at the Games are animated not by a sense of patriotism but by a sense of competition, and they are closer to their fellow athletes from across the Commonwealth than they are to the rest of us sitting at home.

The drama of the games eludes the CBC. Where are the events in which Canadians didn't do well? And why must we see only 30 seconds of an event and then listen to five minutes of what's coming up or what happened yesterday? In diving competition we listen to a commentator who screams

Feir Play

Well, we have been in or taken an active part in every Haliburton Rotary Club summer parade since it started back in 1944. Many of you have likewise seen them all. The question is, has there ever been a better one than that presented to us last Wednesday evening. We doubt it. It was a long parade. The floats were of very high quality and one can see that many hours of work went into their entries. Many say that it was the best ever and if not, it had to rate as one of the best. Our congratulations to the Rotary Club on this magnificent parade and to all those who took part. One thing that seemed to be missing was the lack of music in the parade. A parade of this size needs at least four bands. We realize that it's very hard to sign up bands for a mid-week engagement and this is one reason why we think that the carnival should be held on Friday and Saturday each week with the parade being held on Saturday night. This would give outside bands the opportunity to come here and play. When most of the bandsmen have to work, how in the world can they possibly be here in Haliburton by 6:30 p.m. on a Wednesday night. In our opinion, a parade should have, let us say, two pipe bands, a brass band and a drum and bugle corp band. Music plays a big part in any parade and you have to admit that this is what makes it. These are just a few suggestions for another year.

The merchants in the village of Minden have formed a Businessmen's Association and in our opinion this has been a good idea and already the Minden businessmen have put some of their ideas into practice. The merchants of Haliburton are talking and are very enthusiastic about starting a Businessmen's Association. It's really needed and is expected to be organized in September. This will give the merchants of Haliburton the opportunity to set their store hours, get more local improvements done in the village and look into many matters that need immediate attention. This will also give them a stronger voice when they go to council. Every other group in the village is organized and it's just about time that the local business people get together.

August is a bad month for putting you into a trance at the wheel, says the Ontario Safety League. The hot sun, hypnotic effect of road glare, the nudging of fatigue can all combine to form a real accident hazard. Don't wait until some emergency wakes you up without much time to get that brake working. Stay wide awake and alert every minute you're behind the wheel.

You know we sometimes think that all the news we read in the newspapers and listen to on radio and TV these days is all bad and we must agree. Some people will say that the world is in the worst shape that it has ever been in. According to a clipping in the City magazine showing the heading of an issue of the Toronto Star in August 11th, 1927, they had many of the same problems in those days. The following headings over the news items in that edition were as follows: Sacco Vanzetti Case Goes to Full Bench, Banish Wars Forever World Teachers Urge, Five communists in Trouble. Things were even bad in those days.

The summer season is starting to wind down and as far as we know there are only three events left. The Haliburton County Fair at Minden on August 12 - 13. A play "Anyone for Tea", "Chester You Owe me Bird an Apology," by Lindsay Little Theatre at H.H.S.S. on August 28th and the Kimmount Fair September 1, 2 and 3.

It's a fact that in every community in Haliburton County there seems to be a large number of kickers who are never satisfied with what is being done in their particular area. There is no use grumbling about this or that unless you are prepared to do something about the problems and come up with some good alternate answers. The answer is in this situation to get out and be part of your community by joining one of the organizations and give your area a boost.

It's fair time once again. This coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 11, 12 and 13 will mark the 114th Haliburton County Fair at Minden, Ontario. It is our hope that this will be one of the best fairs in Haliburton County's history. May we remind you that this is the only fair in Haliburton County and it is deserving of your support. At one time there were many fairs held in various villages in the County, but as time went on most places were unable to keep them going and local fairs seemed to be a thing of the past. Yes, there is only one left and the Fair Board are to be congratulated on being able to hang in there and keep the fair alive. It hasn't been easy up through the years as costs keep rising and the main problem seems to be getting enough people to come forward to lend a hand in the many duties that must be performed. A good programme has been lined up this year and remember "The day of the Fair, is the day to be there." Why not take in the fair and have a really good time. Remember, it's this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Our congratulations this week to the Rotary Club of Minden who came up with an outstanding parade at this year's Annual Summer Carnival. The club put a great deal of effort into bringing you this parade and may we say that it really paid off.

You know we can't stress the fact too much that keeping Haliburton County in the Province of Ontario beautiful is everyone's business. We can all help by making sure that we are not litterbugs. Let's make sure that we all put our litter in the containers that are placed in certain areas for our convenience.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

Everybody loves maps and we are very pleased to announce that we have a brand new set of maps available to you through the Chamber. Glen Campbell, an enterprising young student from the Toronto area, with a love for Haliburton, has established as a summer project the "Haliburton Map Company". Glen has produced attractive detailed maps 18" by 24" of four Haliburton areas that include much detail such as location of buildings, lodges and camps. There is a map of the area surrounding Lake Kashagawigamog, Gull Lake, Kawagama Lake, and Western Haliburton which includes Boshkung, Kushog, Halls, Big Hawk and Little Hawk and St. Nora Lakes. These attractive maps, along with the topographical maps the Chamber was already carrying in stock, are available at the Chamber at only $1.50 each. Drop in and see them at the Welcome Centre, or visit us at the Chamber display booth in the arena auditorium at the County Fair this weekend.

Water Lots

A number of our members have been inquiring about what developments are taking place in regard to the contentious issue of water lots. A number of submissions have been made on behalf of our membership in this regard and we have been advised that at the present time the whole program is under review. We sincerely hope that some of the points raised by the Chamber will be seriously considered during this review period and a new and fair policy will be established. Unfortunately some of the damage created by this legislation has already been done. An attractive and functional dock facility that at one time was available to local visitors has been demolished since its owner did not wish to rent a water lot from the Ministry. We do urge any other commercial establishments considering such drastic steps to hold off till such time as a firm policy has been set by the Ministry.

Oh That Acid Rain

The announcement this week that the Ministry of Environment had reminded its previous order to INCO to cut back on air pollution left us almost numb. When the initial "acid rain" issue was brought to life we were assured that it need not be that serious a problem providing the various levels of government moved to deal with it. The Ministry's decision to allow INCO to continue to emit 36,000 tons of sulphur dioxide into the air per day is certainly an indication that no intention of dealing with the source of the problem at this time. It may well be that it is not economically feasible at the present to do so, but if this is the case it is most certainly their responsibility then to deal with the treatment.

A proven method of treatment to prevent acidity in our lakes is to dump limestone into those lakes which do not have natural deposits of it. This system has been used in lakes in the Sudbury area which had already been announced "dead" with complete success. This program should be implemented immediately with the cost assessed to INCO.

One should bear in mind that the only apparent problem created by this acidity in the lakes is that it affects the reproduction of fish, and may contribute to mercury levels in older deep water fish. It does not apparently kill existing fish or wild life. In view of this it would be logical to therefore set up a major fish hatchery in the Haliburton area in which the acidity could readily be controlled. From this hatchery all lakes in the surrounding area could be kept well stocked and the immediate effects of INCO's continued air pollution would be minimized.

The Chamber will certainly be making submissions in this regard but we also urge all concerned members of our community to write letters to the Ministry of Environment insisting on consideration in this issue.

The County Fair is Coming

Minden, Haliburton, Wilberforce, Gooderham have all had very successful carnivals and special events throughout the summer. It is now time for all the communities throughout the County to get together and back the one event that is representative of the entire Highlands. The Chamber will be there in the midst of the County's biggest parade and will also have a display booth in the arena auditorium where many of our local crafts are also on display. We look forward to seeing you all there.

Welcome

We are pleased to welcome Dr. Anthony Holliday-Rhodes, his wife Sonja, and their three children into our community. Dr. Holliday-Rhodes has just joined Dr. Lodenquai at the new Minden Medical Clinic. We hope you will make him and his family feel welcome.

There's only one thing wrong with this country - aside from too many politicians, too much winter, too much inflation, too little employment - and that is its summer.

A Canadian summer is sneaky, seductive, and even sinister. That may sound like a paradox, when the sky is as blue as John Turner's eyes, day after day, and the sun is as hot as Rene Levesque's tongue, day after day. But it's a fact, Canada's summer is deteriorating, debilitating and eventually destroying our normally sturdy national character. At least it is mine. And as I look about me, I know I'm not alone.

During the other seasons, we know where we are - or are not - going. We know where we are at. Through our magnificent autumns, our basic pessimism prevails. We greet with little harsh barks of sardonic laughter, and a knowing wagging of heads, every doomsday prophet, from ancient Almanac, who tells us that it's going to be a long, tough winter.

When the first snow flies in November, we are as delighted as a Bible-thumping, soul-saving minister dumped into a community of arant sinners.

We start building up our personal library of short stories and novels, entitled such as "Snow" and "To Build a Fire" and "Lost in the Barrens" and "Christmas Eve at Eighty Below", each designed to make us chuckle as we sit there with the oil furnace wafting up the tropic temperatures from below.

For the next four or five months, we spin our wheels on the ice and shuffle through the snow, happy as pigs in poop, complimenting each other on the facts that "There's a turrible lotta 'fue' around" and that

"She's a long ways from over yet", even though it's the end of February and it hasn't snowed for three weeks.

From the first of March to the middle of May, regardless of the mist of green sprouting everywhere, the ice gone out of the bay, and the thermometer rising to the gasping point, the boys in the coffee shop and the girls at the hair-dresser's keep reminding each other merrily of the year we had eighteen inches on April 12th, and the time we had a killing frost on the 24th of May.

Suddenly it's June. Lilac scent. Strawberries. Flowers popping. Mosquitoes humming. Temperatures soaring. But we don't give up. We still know the score. "We'll likely have a cold, wet summer", or "The dam' grass is growin' too fast. Hadda cut her twice this week", or "Too many squirrels. That means a long, hard winter."

And then, without our even realizing it, we've slid into the miracle of July and August, and our dour national natures are completely fragmented, alienated. We don't know who we are, where we are going, or where we are at. We go to pieces.

We forget all about our ten-month love affair with Survival and begin acting as humans and normal as those despised Mediterraneans we want to keep out of the country.

Elderly gentlemen with legs like grasshoppers and gu guts like a member of the Hell's Angels, go sauntering along the beach in shorts and shades, shameless.

Grandmothers, who the rest of the year preach probity, purity and good posture, slither into bikinis, grease themselves all over, and lie around like starlets at the Riviera, soaking up the sun and any glances that come their way.

Young executives, normally suited, shirted and tied, wander about backyard barbecues, corsets abandoned, bare bellies hanging over slovenly shorts, downing gin and tonic as though it were the medicine to end all ailments.

Male teenagers suddenly emerge with more macho than a Mexican, chests bared, shorts cut right back to the pubic hair line, swaggering, bare-footed, constantly brushing or combing their other well-shaped hair, saying in effect, "Here I am, girls. Ain't I gorgeous? Better grab me before someone else does."

Young ladies who would not be caught dead in anything but jeans the other ten months of the year, stroll down main street in outfits that would have been considered scandalous a couple of decades ago in a hootchikootch show. (If you don't know what that is, ask your dad.)

And tiny children are probably the worst, because they don't know or care anything about that other ten months. They go ape, pointing at birds, plucking leaves, chasing squirrels, splashing, running in the sun, and tearing off their clothes the moment no one is looking.

I guess we're a bit like the Swedes. They're the most sensual, sun - loving, sexy people in the world when they get south of the Straits of Saggerack. The rest of the year, they're too busy committing suicide.

We're not much for the latter, we Canadians. At least, not physically. We do it mentally and emotionally.

But just the other day, I noticed the acorns falling in great quantities. We all know what that means. All together, now, and let's have some harmony. "It's going to be a long, tough winter."

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

John Eakins has sent the following open letter to the Minister of Industry and Tourism: The Hon. John R. Rhodes, Minister of Industry & Tourism, Hearst Block, Queen's Park

Dear John,

I would like to take this opportunity to inform you of the kind of situation that makes a tourist operator's life difficult.

Earlier this week, Pickeral Point Road (off Highway 36) was closed by the Ministry of Transportation & Communications. The incident surprised tourist operators along the road who are currently in their busiest period of operation. Only after complaints from these business owners did the Ministry place a sign showing the alternative route for Pickeral Point Road. This, of course, will not correspond with brochures that those business people have printed and distributed, especially in the case of tourists who may be going there for the first time.

Let me explain the reason for the surprise of the local businessmen. It appears that the decision to close this road and improve another road in its place was made some time around 1969. At that time the appropriate steps were taken to have the preliminary designs approved by the county and the two townships involved. Had this happened more recently, it would have been required to advertise the plans in the local newspaper and set up a drop-in centre for residents to voice their opinions and/or objections.

Instead of going ahead with the project in 1969, it was postponed. Then, almost ten years later, it was picked up off the shelf and proceeded with - thus accounting for the surprise of local residents. How many other projects of a similar nature now sit on shelves in the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to be implemented at some future date and in most cases unknown to new municipal council members and to new property owners that could be very adversely affected by such a move.

Mr. Minister, that a major road to tourist establishments could be closed by another Ministry at the height of Ontario's tourist season is mute testimony to the need for a more co-ordinated approach to the tourism sector in this province. May I suggest that this type of occurrence is an example of what hampers the operation of tourism businesses. And may I add that this lends credence to the second recommendation in our Task Force Report on Tourism: That the Minister responsible for Tourism more fully co-ordinate the activities of all the Ministries making decisions that affect the tourism sector.

I urge you, at this time, to consider more fully the implementation of some of the recommendations of our Task Force on Tourism that by their very nature were prepared to prevent exactly this type of occurrence and to allow tourist operators to run their businesses more effectively and more profitably.

Yours truly,
John Eakins

School buses should have seatbelts - MPP

Editor's note: The following is an open letter from Mel Swart, MPP Welland-Thorold, to the honourable James Snow, Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communication.

Dear Mr. Snow:

Through this letter, I am asking you to make regulations or introduce a bill in the Legislature this fall requiring the installation of seat belts in all school buses and making their use compulsory.

Your Ministry's statistics show substantial reductions in deaths and injuries to occupants to automobiles since mandatory seat belt legislation was passed more than two and one half years ago. In fact, deaths were a dramatic 64% lower in the first quarter of 1978 than they were in the similar period of 1975 when belt use was optional.

I believe the benefits of seat belt use should be extended now to the 600,000 school children who are transported daily by school buses. Although it is recognized that school buses are the safest vehicles on the road, the (average) two deaths and 200 injuries that occur in school bus accidents each year could be reduced markedly by seat belt use. It is worth the minimal cost and inconvenience - especially when the dead and injured are those in their early years.

The installation and compulsory use of the belts in the school buses would have a major spin off benefit too. Habits, including the use of seat belts, are formed at an early age. Children who are belted in automobiles from baby stage insist on using the belts as they grow up. The absence of belts in the buses they ride during their school years, breaks the habit and causes them to be more indifferent about their use when they become drivers and adult passengers.

There can be no doubt too, that school bus drivers would have far more freedom to concentrate on their driving if the students were buckled up.

As you know, the report of the Ontario Legislature's "Select Committee on Highway Safety", tabled in September of last year, stated: "The scale of prospective tragedy in a serious school bus accident is increasing as school buses, for economic reasons, become larger". Several suggestions for greater safety were suggested, but it said that "Seat belts and padded safety seats appear to offer greater promise". Your government has full authority over seat belt policy. I urge you to bring forth the necessary regulation to provide mandatory seat belt installation and use in all school buses.

Meetings to be held on Trent-Severn

Bill Scott, M.P., Victoria-Haliburton, reminds constituents that they will have an opportunity this summer to speak out on what goes on in the Rideau and Trent-Severn waterways.

At a series of open meetings, the ten-member CORTS (Canada - Ontario Rideau, Trent-Severn) advisory committee is seeking public reaction to more than thirty recommendations contained in the CORTS greenpaper and the interim land use guidelines. Both reports were issued earlier this year for public discussion and are available at the Corts Secretariat, Suite 210, 340 George Street North, Peterborough, Ontario (705-743-9311).

If these proposals become policy, people who use the system whether they be cottagers, boaters, developers or day visitors, can expect that their activities on and around the waterway in question will be more regulated by all levels of government. The CORTS committee is seeking your opinion on a number of proposals. Interested citizens are advised that they are cordially invited to attend public meetings which will take place in Fenelon Falls and Orillia in the weeks ahead.

A meeting will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 19, at the recreation centre in Fenelon Falls. A further public discussion forum will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, September 14, at Fern Resort, Orillia.

The CORTS committee is

How to be a cool customer this summer.

Be as cool as a cucumber

Fruits and salads are cool and refreshing. And when you stay away from the oven to prepare meals, you also stay cooler and save electricity.

Keep it light and breezy. It's cool to wear lighter clothes with lighter colours. It's also cool if your clothes dryer is vented outdoors. Heat and moisture won't be released in your home. Better still, hang your clothes outside to dry.

Use your air conditioner wisely. Make sure it fits tightly in the window. Keep your doors and windows closed. Clean the filters regularly if you leave your house for part of the day, cut back the air conditioning. Going on vacation? Turn it off completely.

Keep your blinds down. Keeping your blinds down or drapes drawn on the sunny side has some cold logic to it. The heat of the sun is shut out while the coolness is kept in. At night, keep lights to a minimum. It's cooler and saves electricity.

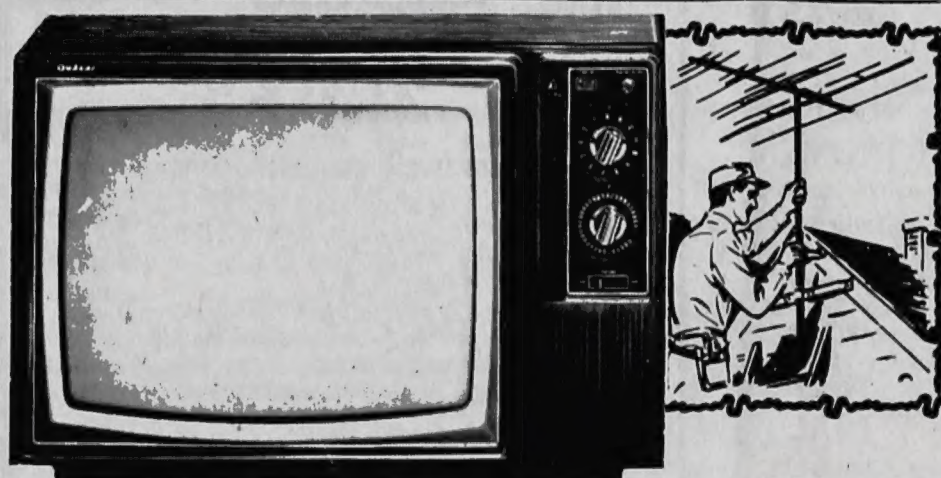

Drink up. Ah, there's nothing like a tall, cool, refreshing drink to make things cooler. But remember when the refrigerator door is left open, valuable energy escapes.

Haliburton County Ladies softball

Minden tops as regular season closes

A twist is what you need for a top pitch

Last Monday night the Haliburton ladies travelled to Minden to take on the Juniors. The Juniors came up with a strong game winning 24-23. Darlene and Donelda Donelko were the big hitters for the Jrs., while Shirley Hewitt and Gail Teasdale were strong hitters for Haliburton. Donelda Donelko was the winning pitcher while Faye Schonhoffer took the loss.

Tuesday night had the two Minden teams playing a really exciting game, with the Seniors coming from behind 7-3 to defeat the Juniors 9-7. This is the second consecutive night that Jan Fitchett has come up with a big hit to win it for the Seniors. Nelda Cully was the winning pitcher while Donelda Donelko took the loss.

Carnarvon and Gooderham played Tuesday night with Carnarvon coming out on top 20-8. Marg Darby was the winning pitcher while Waneta Hunter took the loss.

The Minden Srs. travelled to Harcourt Wednesday evening to take on Wilberforce. The first two innings were close but the strong Minden ladies got 19 runs in the fourth to win 38-17. Anne Hewson was the winning pitcher.

Carnarvon and Gooderham met on Thursday night in Gooderham. Although Gooderham has only won one game so far in this season, they gave Carnarvon a run for their money. Carnarvon finally won 14-13. Marg Darby was the winning pitcher while Waneta Hunter took the loss.

A Gooderham player waits for pitch

A tennis enthusiast drives a serve at Rotary courts

Tennis is weak in Haliburton

Haliburton Village has not "caught on" to tennis yet, says Jack Gubser, president of the Haliburton Tennis Club, and he would like to see more people around the town get interested in the sport.

"At any other place in the world, these tennis courts would be filled constantly," said Gubser recently at the Rotary tennis courts.

"It's unusual. There were more people playing tennis here in the spring than there are playing now. The town really hasn't caught on to tennis yet."

However, Gubser adds, there has been a "definite improvement" in the size of the club and the quality of play between club members.

"We have some players who I think have some really good potential. Some of them could really be excellent if they had some good competition. And the only way to get that good is to have some good opponents. But we need the players; that's why we're pushing the tennis lessons," said Gubser.

For the singles tournament which will be finished Friday,

Gubser hopes to divide the club into A, B and C players after the results of the tournament are tabulated.

"It's not a tournament per se. We're basically trying to set up a ladder to pair off the A, B and C players," he said.

Drag Lake Property Owners picnic brings crowds

Games, airplane rides and lots of smiles made the day

Don't drop that egg!

Drag Lake Property Owners held their second annual Fun Day on Sunday August 6 at Haliburton Lodge. Three hundred residents made the afternoon a great success. Races for all ages and egg throwing contests kept everyone busy. Two events which developed great interest were horseshoes and log cutting with an old cross-cut saw.

Pony rides were provided courtesy of Haliburton Lodge. The lodge also prepared and served all the food. The fish pond kept the small fry busy and a tug-of-war ended a very successful afternoon.

The Haliburton Air Service made twelve flights during the afternoon. All those who went for rides were happy with the experience. The oldest passenger was Mrs. Eliza Beatty who at age 73 achieved a life-long ambition of flying over the area which was logged by her husband many years ago.

The association would like to express its appreciation to the Haliburton merchants who donated some very substantial prizes - Bernsteins, Brohms, Black's Hardware, Candlewood, Cauldrons, Kozzy Korner, Curry Motors, Dominion Hardware, Emerson Lumber, Elstone Motors, Haliburton Lumber, Haliburton Pharmacy, Highland Lumber, I.G.A. Foods, Marshall Leighton Real Estate, Nancy's Flowers, Pollards, Red & White Foods, Stedmans, Varty's, Vasey Insurance, Victoria Sports, and an oscar to Larry Warden, an association member who made a very generous contribution to prizes.

The thanks of all participants are extended to Terry Richardson, Association president, for her time-consuming effort and to Mrs. John Macdonald, Murray Muirhead, Bill Beatty and Jim Cardinell who managed and set-up the activities.

Gems of Truth

A Searching Question

"He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life." 1 John 5:12. The beloved Apostle John who is the channel God used to set forth the true way of salvation, uses a simple but profound truth in making sure there is no misunderstanding as to who is ready to meet their Creator and Lord. In the words quoted above, John sets forth the true premise of salvation, in that it states the Deity of Jesus, and acknowledges the utter hopelessness of every soul out of Christ, and the complete uselessness of "every" other way by which men might seek God.

The entire New Testament is written on the presumption that any soul who has not received Jesus as Saviour and Lord is literally dead. That one is not in "danger" of death, but is simply and actually dead, spiritually dead, in the sight of God. To solve this problem, God must bring such a one to life. A form of life such as the dead one never previously possessed must be imparted. This is how the acceptance of Jesus as Saviour leads to "regeneration" and "therefore if any man be in Christ he is a 'new' creation." 2 Cor. 5:17. Outside of Christ, God has made no provision for men to acquire eternal life. John is very adamant in this, there just is no other way into God's presence, there is "no" other name given through which men may be saved. Acts 4:12. To seek God by any other name is Satanic delusion indeed!

This is primarily so because "immortality" is centered in Jesus. He alone has proven Himself in this and Scripture boldly declares that fact. "Who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, who only has immortality." 1 Tim 6:15-16. It does not take a very great intellect to conclude that if Jesus "alone" has immortality, He alone can confer it! No one can give what he has not got, and not even God is excluded from this generality.

In all the writings of John, the Deity of the Lord Jesus is stressed. To the man who was closest to Him and who knew Him best, there was no room for doubt that Jesus was God indeed. And is it not thus today? Those who have believed His words and taken them at face value, never raise any questions about the Virgin Birth or the historical facts of the Incarnation. One simply cannot know Christ as the Scripture sets Him forth and question the fact that He was God's Son, not the offspring of Joseph. And thus it is, that since eternal life is His possession and is in His power to convey to others, only those who have the Son of God have life everlasting. This is all the theology a man needs to be saved!

John says, "He that hath the Son", not "he that hath a diploma in theology." It certainly does not require a mental giant to understand these words. The knowledge of God, which really is what theology is all about, begins when the mind is illuminated upon the acceptance of Jesus as Saviour. This is God's order, salvation first, then learning. It must be that way, for how can one instruct a corpse? Without Christ we do not have life, how then can there be understanding?

It is only as Christ comes in, that life begins and understanding begins to develop. It is only then that one can see through the maze of denominational differences and choose to fellowship where there is life, and God is truly worshipped as Lord and Saviour. For churches, like people, have life only when they have the Son.

The old cry that "there is much good in all the great religions of the world" is beside the point. Do they have the Son? If not, then to what avail is all the good they claim to have? If they have hope in this life only, they are indeed in a miserable state. But the "life" which is in Christ changes the picture, immortality is bestowed on the believing one and ushers the soul into the presence of the Lord in Heaven at the moment of physical death. Anything short of this will not do, and only Jesus can bring this to pass.

Where do we stand in the face of these facts? Are we certain of being a Christian in reality? In plain words, do we have the Son? This is true Christianity, the Lord Jesus "is" Christianity and one is not truly a Christian until we have Him.

News from Extendicare

by Dr. O.W. Anderson

Among the many varieties of seed we planted we have been able to identify some beautiful poppies, single petals and therefore in no way responsible for opium production. I doubt if any of the opium poppies are available anywhere any way. One of our balsams is out in beautiful display. The plants we have been naming columbine all along have finally been identified as being lobelia and they are just as beautiful.

Tuesday afternoon is bingo and much thanks goes to Jake Gill one of the gang who does the number calling. Without this king pin there would be no bingo.

Mr. Trudeau's speech was impressive and as we heard it contained one kernel of truth, "Canadians are fed up". If we remember correctly all the commitments he made were similarly made at various times in his first two years in office. Why they were repeated is a mystery. A post office run as a crown corporation, between the change over and a going concern would be a sink hole for billions, and it appears to us that since Canadian labor is out of the control of the Canadian Government, it would accomplish nothing.

Many of us were bussed Wednesday evening to see the Rotary parade in Haliburton. It was well worth while and estimated to be at least a mile in length with Haliburton businesses, area summer resorts, and of course the Rotary Club, even Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home in Minden, all in the parade and some others we could not classify. There were two nice "Pipe" bands, a large consortium of girls in costume trying to do figure while marching. It was a splendid good natured parade by the participants and the spectators alike. We got rained on before it really got going, making this item in no way conclusive.

There were three movies the same afternoon; the first a tour of British Columbia showing the usual sea coasts, the mountains, and the snow. The second was one of Manitoba showing lakes, rugged terrain and a sea coast on Hudson's Bay. The third showed the culture of Douglas Fir and its overall effect on a forest. The culture begins with harvesting the acorns that contain the seed, one beneath each scale. The harvester climbs the tree and picks the cones labelling them as to altitude. The resulting seedlings must be planted within 500 feet of that. Next were shown the planters and then the elaborate routines that are followed should fire occur in any forest. This was a very interesting film but short.

Thursday after much anticipation 29 of us were bussed to the Head Lake warf where we loaded onto the Highland Queen cruise boat piloted by Capt. Colin Kressler. He took us up Head Lake through Grassy Lake and onto both Kashagawigamog Lks. viewing all the cottagers and the tourist resorts on the shore as we proceeded, then returned as we came back to the Head Lake warf. We were about two hours covering the cruise of 25 miles. The fact of Deer Lodge is of interest being known in Toronto as a good place to go for a nice summer outing on a lake shore, and besides it is known that they are now catering to the Senior Citizens Clubs in Ontario. There is plenty of demand for space on the buses that take

The Senior citizens to Deer Lodge, Haliburton. Even the Highland Queen has a permanent mooring at the Deer Lodge warf.

The "Happy Gang" are having another bazaar some time in December and of several items is the making of jam by the ladies. For the containers we have been asked to seek through this column empty baby food jars that are ordinarily just thrown out, to bring some here.

Mrs. Ethel Fader was taken ill and rushed to the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital. We are glad to learn that after a couple of days we returned here. We hope her recovery will be complete.

Leslie Grist was unable to come to the table for two or three weeks. We see him again at the table not looking too good but recovering none the less. The "Gang" should give him all the encouragement it can.

Friday morning was again our devotional period with Rev. Don Nicholson of Haliburton United Church our sky pilot, our Ms. Sheila Elston, pianist. The theme for this service, part of Christ's teaching, "do not worry for tomorrow will look after itself". In various and devious ways Christ seems to find ways of looking after the many tomorrows for us. The get-together after the service over tea, coffee, and biscuits was enjoyable.

We are starting a new lawn game called "Bocce". More about it later.

Once the busiest of the navigation season is over, work will begin on improvements to the lower approach walls at Fenelon Falls lock.

The north lower wall will be reconstructed on cement piers, replacing the existing concrete which is resting on deteriorating wood cribbing.

About 115 feet of new dockage space will be added to the south wall, as part of a reconstruction and extension. The wall along the river to the falls will also be repaired, with resurfacing of concrete around the lookout station.

Live and Let Live
This summer, the Trent-Severn Waterway is distributing a brochure on the Massasauga Rattlesnake at lock stations on the northern end of the Waterway.

The aim of the pamphlet is to stop people from exterminating this threatened species of snake. The Eastern Massasauga, a small and rather timid rattlesnake, is in danger of extinction in Canada.

They have managed to survive in a few scattered areas along Georgian Bay. In a few places, such as the Trent-Severn Waterway, which is part of Canada's National Park system, they are given protection within a conservationist philosophy. Even here they are not numerous, and likely you'll never have a chance to see one.

While a rattlesnake bite gives a jolt to the body, the chances of it being fatal are infinitesimal - in fact, only two people have ever died from a bite in Eastern Canada, and neither received proper treatment. Rather than trying to smash it with a rock, the hiker would be better advised to avoid it, enjoy a glimpse of a rare and endangered species, and let the snake get on with its business of eating mice and rodents.

Water Control
On July 31, the reservoir storage averaged 77.3%, down only 2% from a week ago. Minimal reservoir flows were needed due to rainfall last week which helped the Kawartha.

On Thursday, August 3, rain-gauges operated by Waterway employees showed rainfalls slightly less than 25 mm in the Kawartha, up to 28 and 29 mm at Haliburton village and Rosedale. Reservoir flows that had been increased on Tuesday were reduced again as the effect of this rainfall became noticeable. Kawartha levels are generally slightly above their navigation maxima and the

Breakins

An 18 year old West Guilford man has been charged in connection with two break-ins in which about $16 worth of food stuffs were stolen.

The first break-in occurred July 28 at the Highland Junction Restaurant. Peter Collins of Haliburton reported the break-in.

The second break-in happened August 1 at the cottage of the accused man's father, Martin Hopkins of Toronto.

Charged with two counts of break, enter and theft is John Hopkins.

Heat can be a menace

In the middle of one of the hottest, driest summers on record, St. John Ambulance reminds you that heat can be a menace. It causes a loss of body fluids and salt that can lead to heat exhaustion. Elderly and obese people are most susceptible, but it can catch anyone, even children. Normally over exertion will cause it, but on a very hot day, you'll lose energy just sitting around. On days like that, make the kids sit down and cool off occasionally, and be sure everyone drinks lots of water.

Water's part of the treatment if heat exhaustion does strike. It shows as a shocklike condition, with dizziness, muscle cramps, cold, clammy skin and sometimes nausea and diarrhea.

Get the victim into a cool place. If he is conscious, give him cold water to drink. If he's vomiting or has diarrhea, add a half a teaspoon of salt to a pint of water or give him a salted broth.

If he's unconscious, don't try to give him anything by mouth. Put him in what's called the recovery position, lying down, on his side with the head back so that if he is sick, he will not choke.

New Haliburton IGA store to open

A large crowd is anticipated for the official opening of the new Haliburton IGA store Thursday. Store employees have been busy over the last week filling shelves and preparing the store for the grand opening, which will be presided over by Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey.

Work on the new store, on property adjacent to the old IGA store, has been going on since March; General Contractor for the construction of the new store was John Beachli Construction of Haliburton.

The store has 7,220 square feet of floor space on the ground floor, more than twice as much as area for merchandise as was available in the old store. The new store is large and bright and features four cash registers to accommodate customers.

Local Tradesmen and suppliers who worked on the new IGA building include:

This past winter some of the ladies of the Norland Women's Institute were busy making quilts. They have two patchwork quilts and a tied quilt for sale and they are on display in the township office window which is situated on the north-west corner of Highway 35 and Highway 503. Each quilt is double bed size and priced at $45.00 and the tied quilt is $20.00. If you are interested in purchasing these bright, handmade coverlets for your home or cottage or for further details, please call Pat Watson - 454-3674 or Barb Maunder - 454-3233.

The Lions Club, Coboconk was very disappointed that Saturday, July 29 was such a rainy day and it did put a damper on many of the activities that were planned for their carnival in the Lions Park. They are, however, most appreciative to all who supported the carnival and helped to make it a success, in spite of the weather. The lucky winner of the Lions Draw for $300 was Greg Moore of Indian Point, Coboconk, $100 winner was Bob Copeland of Niagara Falls who was staying at Shadow-Lee-Bay Trailer Park, Norland. Lion Gord McAllister had his ticket drawn for the third prize of $50 but he returned his winnings to the Club. Congratulations to all!

Once we start the month of August, the Fall fairs start to be advertised. On Saturday, August 19, Fenelon Falls Fair will be held, beginning with a parade at 12:00 noon. Fenelon Agricultural Society Fair will have a midway, ladies nail driving contest, livestock, commercial and domestic exhibits, a horse drawing contest and music supplied by Garnet Watts and his Rhythm Country Group and the Burlington Teen Band. Admission to the fair is $1.00 for adults, children - 25 cents and pre-schoolers free.

Shadow Lake's Sailing Club will hold their Albacore Regatta on Sunday, August 20. Starting time for the races will be at 1:00 p.m. from the docks of Art Keith and Ed Holland, Birch Point. Anyone interested in watching, can do so from these two locations or by boat on Shadow Lake. Each year this regatta has from 20 to 30 entries with some of the sailors from Peterborough, Toronto and other places. It should be a very pleasurable sight to see these sailboats skimming across the waters of Shadow Lake.

Lucky Leona (Dolly) Le-Craw won $100 in the Provincial Draw on Sunday, July 30. It is not enough to retire on but it does make watching the lottery and buying other tickets more interesting. It is nice to know, too, that some of our local people do win sometimes.

Some bouquets to people to help to keep our community looking a little more attractive. One to Les Thomas who has spent many hours of back bending and done a fine job of weeding the colourful Horticultural Society flower beds all around Norland. It was Les, too, who planted these beds. Another bouquet and thank you to Ruth Anne and Arnot Matthews who spent several hours on Friday cutting the park grass beside the Post Office. Roy Bryant is the one who usually keeps this park area looking attractive but Roy, unfortunately, has not been well for the past few weeks and we are grateful to his daughter and son-in-law for looking after this chore. We hope that Roy will soon be feeling fine again and wish him a speedy recovery.

July 30 to August 6 was designated as Museum Week in Lindsay with August 2 as Pioneer Day to celebrate some of the forgotten crafts of early local history. Miss Gladys Suggitt, author of the book "Roses and Thorns" demonstrated the art of butter making and the finished product was then pressed into butter moulds. Marion Larocque made and explained the early skill of forming candles while in other parts of the museum there were spinning and chair caning demonstrations. The Victoria County Museum which is located across from Kawartha Lakes School and beside Lindsay Square on Kent Street West in Lindsay is a most interesting place to visit. During the summer months it is open every day except Monday from noon until 6:00 p.m. Admission is $1.00 for adults, 75 cents for students and children 25 cents. Next time that you are in Lindsay, take time to visit the museum and enjoy our early history.

On Tuesday, August 8 and again on August 12 and 15, Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop will have a fifty percent discount on all clothes and shoes in the shop. On Saturday, August 19, budget priced nearly new warmer clothes such as coats, sweaters, suits, wool pants etc. will be on sale in the shop to help you with your Fall and Winter needs. So remember these dates and shop for bigger and better bargains.

Mike Chynoweth has had some tough luck just lately. On Monday, July 24, he was in a car accident but fortunately, not hurt badly. On July 31, (another Monday) while butchering at the Norland Red and White store, he cut his left hand between his thumb and fore-finger and had to have four stitches to close the wound. So far, he is still smiling so let's hope his luck changes for the better soon!

Mr. & Mrs. James Boles of Guelph spent the week at the cottage of their aunt and uncle, Mr. & Mrs. Howard Barker.

Mr. & Mrs. Murray Fisk of Toronto are spending a few days with Mr. & Mrs. Barker. Mrs. M. Gold and Mrs. Jack Cooper of Crystal Lake were luncheon guests on Tuesday of Mr. & Mrs. H. Barker.

The Happy Wanderers enjoyed a bus trip to Lakeview Manor at Beaverton last week where they entertained the residents there. The visitors were also treated to a musical special when some ten of the residents sang "How Great Thou Art." True Davidson, that famous lady and former mayor of East York and some residents of True Davidson's home were in attendance. The Happy Wanderers will be entertaining at Hillcrest Manor in Minden on the 16th and later in September at the Lindsay fair.

Gertie Creighton is most interested to know if you can help her on some vital information. The old Jail House is used as a New Horizons out-let and a very busy spot these summer months. The jail is a very old building - but how old? The New Horizons would love to know what year the jail was built and by whom. If you have the facts, contact Gertie Creighton at 454-3570 and enlighten all of us, since no-one is certain of the year the jail was built.

I wish someone could tell me why the summer seems to fly so fast; here it is the week of the County Fair and I'm rushing around like a hen on a hot griddle. The grass needs cutting, the garden has to be hoed, my flowers are blooming early, I'm trying to get my exhibits in order. I guess I'm rather like the "Lazy Farmer", what gets done will be done, what doesn't get done will just have to stay undone!

Last Tuesday evening the Minden & District Horticultural Society had Mrs. Pat Campbell give them a talk on how their flowers were to be displayed to get results at flower shows or fairs. There were some displays on hand for her to judge and tell what was wrong etc. We all received many helpful hints and hopefully there will be a lot of flowers and plants on display at the Fair. The Society will have a display at the Community Centre as well; so be sure and drop in to see what the members are growing, also what they have for sale in the line of plants. It was very pleasing for the members to know that they had won first prize for non commercial float at the Rotary Parade, as well as doing so well at the plant and baking booth.

Phyllis Kylie & Kristen of Bruce Mines spent last week with Phyllis' father, Mr. Vinton Loucks.

Contestants who won the lawn swings at Minden Furniture last Saturday were Maxine Snell; Mary Hay; Mary Jane Sheppard.

Mrs. Anne Dawson has had her brother, Mr. Francis Smith of Detroit, Mich. visiting with her for the past few weeks.

Recent visitors with the Sandy Stewarts were: Mr. & Mrs. Alan Ellerby and Andrew of Acton; Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Fournaux, Mr. & Mrs. Howard Hagerman, Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hagerman, all of Markham.

Maple Lake News

The annual picnic of the Down family and friends was held again this summer at the Elmer Down cottage on the south shore. There were many different events arranged for and everyone seemed to be enjoying himself or herself just being doing their own thing. There was little time wasted that day, between soft ball, jumping competitions, and lake sports of all kinds. They almost needed someone to direct traffic in and out - but a more orderly event I have yet to see. As the afternoon wore on, the women folk interrupted their visiting to prepare for the outdoor meal which I'm sure was one of the highlights of the picnic. Everything was so colourful in the cottage setting, banked by the greenery of the trees on the shore. I would like to finish by saying "I'm sure a good time was had by all."

The Carnarvon ladies had a busy time last Saturday July 29, catering to the reception in the Firemen's Hall for the Ray Johnson wedding.

We, of the Maple Lake area, wish to extend sympathy to the immediate family, relatives and friends of the late Mrs. Carmen Barry. May you feel God's presence with you at this difficult time, making your burden easier to bear.

Mr. & Mrs. Jack Kyte and children, who are enjoying a two week vacation at their cottage, had as guests during their stay, Mr. and Mrs. John Gravel and their three children. Lynn Kyte's parents have also been holidaying with them.

Rev. Gerald and Mrs. Johnson of Ilderton and their boys, Kevin and Patrick, are at their summer home now for their August vacation.

Mr. & Mrs. Leslie Hagan of Lindsay spent a day recently visiting with my brother and I.

Last week's guests with Oscar Sisson and Isabelle were Mr. & Mrs. Mervyn Sisson of Orillia, who were on vacation at Edgewater Beach, and also Mr. & Mrs. Clair Roberts and Susie of Haliburton.

Mr. Charles Smith of Brantford, Ont., has been renewing friendships with Mr. & Mrs. J. Dyer.

One day recently was visitors day at the Leigh Sissons, as Leigh and Minnie enjoyed visits with Mr. & Mrs. Jack Phillips, Mr. Phillips Sr., Mrs. E. Taylor Jr., Mr. & Mrs. E. Taylor Jr., all of Toronto, and also Mrs. Mary Oliver of R.R. #2, Minden.

Wm. Redgrave Sr., a former owner of Beech View cottages on Beech Lake, accompanied by a granddaughter, Bonnie Lynn, called on some of his old neighbours last Tuesday, and enjoyed chatting with Oscar Sisson. The same day, friends from the Paisley area, Mr. & Mrs. Austin MacTeer, also Mr. & Mrs. Harvey MacTeer renewed acquaintances at the Sisson home and didn't get away from their old friend before having some good games of six hand Euchre, which Oscar dearly enjoys.

Mrs. Robert Young (Ruth Sisson) of London is with her sister Ella, (Mrs. Fred Toye) for a few days.

Mrs. Lois Ross of Guelph who has had a short vacation with the Syd Barnes' returned home last week.

Alice and Bill Chambers are now at home again after an interesting and enjoyable trip through western Canada. They visited with Cindy, their daughter, at Fort McMurray and find she is really enjoying life in Canada's north.

Tim Barnes is helping on his sister's (Barbara) farm at Seagrave for a couple of weeks.

Woman arrested for bad cheques

A 35 year old woman has been charged with two counts of false pretences after she had written two cheques with insufficient funds on July 13-14.

The value of the cheques written for purchases at the Red and White Store in Minden, was $35. Anna Barry, 35, of West Guilford was charged in connection with the incident.

The book is called "Spring Tonic". It's a collection of words and pictures that celebrate the Canadian spring. I've got a lot of material from history -- from early explorers, pioneer settlers, and even from the records of our native people -- and I've commissioned some of our best known writers, from W.O. Mitchell to Margaret Atwood, to set down their thoughts or recollections. I've got some recipes for fiddleheads, rhubarb, asparagus, and a few other food that are particularly associated with spring in this country. But I need more.

I need, in fact, more of everything. More information, more tips on how to cope with spring, more memories with the real flavor of Canada and -- especially -- more humor. I'd love to see what you have.

I should emphasize the "Tonic" aspects of the book. It will be published next February 2 (Groundhog Day) and its main purpose, as well as celebrating spring, is to kind of help people get ready for it. Harry Bruce, for instance, has written a wonderful piece for me just about opening his cottage in Nova Scotia, that reminds you of getting ready for spring; there's a nice report from Raincoast Chronicles about the oolachans coming up the Bella Coola River in April to spawn. And so on. But how do people where you live get ready for spring? What are the signs? How do you conquer the mid-winter blahs?

I'm not asking that you write anything special here. Only let me know, and send me a copy of, anything you have in your files. I'll pay $50.00 for each piece I use -- less than that for a recipe, or a light piece of verse (please, no serious poetry) -- and will give all the appropriate credits.

I know how well Canada's community newspapers reflect the real Canada, and I do hope you'll let me share something from your paper with readers everywhere.

Yours sincerely,
Peter Gzowski

hysterically and comes near to tears each time a Canadian diver makes it into the water in reasonably good shape. The same commentator tells us someone missed a dive, but when the scores come up, virtually all of the judges have failed to see what the commentator has seen. It makes you wonder.

Canada loses in badminton doubles competition 15-2 and 15-3, but it was a "hard fought match" with the Canadians putting in a "really good effort". If they were outclassed, let's admit it. It's no shame for the athletes if they've tried their best, and it's certainly no shame for us at home.

The Games are a good thing because they bring people together to share in a spirit of competition and camaraderie. If only the CBC could see it that way, and find commentators who were concerned less with nationalism and more with presenting the drama of events including those in which Canadians do not do well.

There is however, one small consolation. The CBC people are wearing the same sports jackets they wore for the Olympics in Montreal. At least they didn't waste the taxpayers money on new clothes. It's a good thing too, because the commentators have shown no evidence that they are worthy of the expense.

flow down the Otonabee River is between 20 and 21 cubic metres per second (700 - 750 cfs.) Some of the recent rains have improved conditions in the lower Trent. Trenton weather office recorded 56.0 mm July 20 - August 3, with 27.2 on August 3 alone. This one day's was more than that station had recorded in two months, May 20 to July 20.

Lake Simcoe - Couchiching rose about 3 centimeters with the August 2-3 rain (35.2 mm in Orillia) to reach the curve level of 218.96 m on August 3.

Severn River flows average about the same as the Trent at 20 to 21 cubic metres per second.

Scugog Lake whose outflow has been shut off since May 31, but whose only inflow comes from a few creeks had dropped to within 4 centimeters of its navigation minimum. The August 2-3 rain restored 2 cm to this level.

-a proposal that all boaters should hold a certificate of boating competence;
-a possible restriction of development in environmentally sensitive areas;
-the proposal that government publicize the location of all crown lands slated for future recreational use;
-numerous other matters of concern.

Interested individuals are urged to contact the CORTS office for copies of reports and recommendations so that they will be better prepared to deal with these matters at the public meetings.

Miskwabi cottagers hold annual meeting

The Fourth Annual General Meeting of the Lake Miskwabi Cottagers' Association was held Saturday August 5 at the Airstrip clearing, Lake Miskwabi.

Chairman J. G. (Jerry) Strickland welcomed a very large crowd of area residents, cottagers and visitors, and proceeded to advise on the status of the more significant issues affecting the area. Subsequent to the cancellation of the Ontario Municipal Board hearing on the original Plan of Subdivision, a meeting had been held between the Ministries of the Environment and Natural Resources and the developer.

The Ministries concerned advised the developer that their endorsement of his development proposal would be dependent on his ability to redesign the plan to ensure minimal impact on the water quality of the lake system. Revisions to the plan based on criteria recommended by the Ministry of the Environment have now been proposed and received an "approval in principle" from the Environmental Ministry. Because the developer is confident, he may now demonstrate the feasibility of development in a manner which resolves the former objections of the Ministries of the Environment and Natural Resources, the Environmental Agencies concerned have indicated their willingness to review the revised plan under the normal procedures of subdivision approval. As the inclusion of the Miskwabi area into the Dysart Official Plan was also deferred with the cancellation of the O.M.B. hearing, this is now the subject of communication between the Ministry of Housing and the Municipality of Dysart as to how to proceed from here.

A large delegation from the Lake Wenona Association was in attendance. As the Wenona and Miskwabi areas have common problems and interests, it was agreed to amalgamate into one larger association.

Regarding road conditions, Strickland advised that M.T.C. has recently completed area highway markings and replaced the Trappers Trail sign. The municipality has completed road oiling and weed cutting, and the developer has embarked on a road improvement program. He is working in the direction of municipal standards; there will be improvements on all roads, and blasting and ditching of Wenona and Long Lake roads will take place in the fall. The Lake Miskwabi boat landing is in the process of being transferred to the municipality.

The chairman next introduced the guest speaker, Alex Millar, Conservation Officer, Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden. Officer Millar gave an excellent presentation on the role of M.N.R. and of a conservation Officer: He reported an area fish stocking, advised on the treatment of errant bears and other animals and provided much information on lake trout characteristics. Wenona residents requested and M.N.R. survey of their lake. After a most spirited question period, officer Millar was presented with a remembrance of the occasion and enthusiastically thanked by the group.

The chairman continued with the remaining items of business. A petition was submitted by concerned and interested residents of the area for improved winter road plowing and telephone lines. After general discussion, the adoption of these requests was unanimously approved by the group for resolution.

Strickland advised the group of the most useful and interesting literature that had been donated by many departments and groups such as:

Ministry of Natural Resources (via Officer Millar), Ministry of Environment, Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Assoc. Inc., Haliburton Hockey Haven (via Doug MacNamara), The Canadian Water Ski Association, The Canadian Red Cross Society, the Ontario Provincial Police.

This material was acknowledged, appreciated, displayed and promptly grabbed up.

The use of smoke detectors by cottagers was recommended; the group was encouraged to view the model of the proposed town of Haliburton waterfront park in the Municipal Offices and offer comments. This is dynamic, progressive, exciting and ambitious an undertaking and deserves support. Area water levels have been improved and the Haliburton Highlands Water Levels Committee has met regularly with the proper authorities for short, medium and long term solutions to the problem.

The association directors will be meeting with Dysart council on August 14, and cottagers and area residents were requested to bring any items for presentation to Council, to the attention of the directors before that date.

During the question period, cottagers raised the problems of boat speeding in the narrows between Miskwabi and Long Lakes, loud music by some cottagers, acid rain and infrequent OPP lake patrols. Clarification was requested as to the status of the Miskwabi Airstrip.

The treasurer's report and Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Association news were presented. Additional directors were requested for the larger territories.

Credit cards recovered, youth faces charges

A 16 year old Toronto youth faces five charges of possession of stolen credit cards and one charge of possession of a stolen car as a result of a call to police following a credit card transaction.

The boy was arrested in the Dorset area on Saturday morning and five credit cards from Eaton's, American Express, Charge, Master Charge and B.P. Canada, were recovered.

A 1975 Oldsmobile, which had been stolen from the Toronto area was also recovered as a result of the arrest. Charged is Alan P. Landry of Keele St. in Toronto.

A quiet moment on the swings

Summertime: A time of fun and relaxation

Summer in Haliburton. It's a time of sunshine and relaxation, a time when people from many parts of Ontario make the annual pilgrimage to the cottage or to resorts for a few weeks of boating and waterskiing, sailing, canoeing or swimming.

Summer is a time when the Highlands of Haliburton are at their best. When the mist rises off glassy calm lakes in early morning, and when the last rays of the sun glint through pine trees and are reflected on the water, Haliburton County reveals its charms.

Summer in the Highlands is a time for walking down village streets, for stopping to buy an ice cream cone or a popsicle, and for eating it as you stroll along.

It's a time when children set up lemonade stands and make a few nickels and dimes by quenching the thirst of passers-by.

It's a time for carnivals and parades that are a delight to both young and old alike.

It's a time for baseball games and tennis games, and for tossing a frisbee too.

It's a time for back yard barbecues, for fresh vegetables and cool drinks.

It's a time for soaking up the sun, for reading a book on a blanket beside the water, or for a quiet conversation away from the crowds.

Last weekend was the busiest of the year in Haliburton County, and it was easy to see that there are a lot of ways to enjoy the summer here. As the pictures on this page show, relaxing is what a long weekend in the Highlands is all about.

Haliburton Highlights by Creighton Feir

May we remind everyone that Decoration Day will be held at Evergreen Cemetery in Haliburton this coming Sunday, August 13th with the service at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Volda McPhail of Winnipeg, Manitoba and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rutt of Lindsay were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntyre.

Swimming classes started at the Rotary Beach on Tuesday, August 1st with a large number of children turning out to take part in the classes that will make them better swimmers. It's really important that as parents we make sure that our children are taking part in these swimming classes because as we all know that if you like boating you should know how to swim.

Many of you already know and possibly some of you don't that each Sunday night during the summer months open air Church services are held at the Haliburton Ball Park at 7:00 p.m. Each Sunday night one of the ministers in Haliburton takes the service. Why not make it a point of being there this coming Sunday evening.

Just a reminder here to all you local gals that this is your opportunity to enter the Haliburton County Fair Queen Contest. All contestants must be between 17 and 22 years of age and tax paying residents of Haliburton County. The chosen Queen goes to the C.N.E. next year. Contestants must wear dresses (no slacks or jeans). The deadline for entries is this Friday, August 11th, 1978.

During the month of July we didn't notice too many dogs running at large in the village but so far in August we have noticed many of them on the loose. The owners should make sure that they are tied up or at least keep them on a leash.

While on the subject of local parades, it has been brought to our attention that in possibly another year something should be done in connection with the throwing of advertising articles from floats. There is always the possibility that someone along the parade route can be hit on the head by something thrown from a float and book matches also pose a hazard if they get into the hands of children. In other words they shouldn't be playing with matches.

Monmouth receives OHRP grant

The Township of Monmouth has received a grant of $40,000 under the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP).

OHRP provides per capita grants to Ontario municipalities to administer directly as loans to homeowner occupants to repair their houses to an acceptable municipal minimum standard.

The grants announced today represent various portions of the total 1978-79 funding designated under OHRP for each municipality.

The prime objective of the program is the correction of faulty structural and sanitary conditions and the upgrading of plumbing, heating, insulation and electrical systems of the owner occupant's home.

OHRP is directly oriented to low and moderate income homeowners with a maximum annual income of $12,500.

Loans of up to $7,500 can be given to eligible owner occupants to bring their homes up to the standards adopted by their municipality. A portion of the loan can be "forgiven" depending upon the income of the recipient. Interest rates vary from zero to eight per cent, again depending on income.

Keeping the colored lights on the main street in the village is certainly causing the local council a great deal of concern. The bulbs either blow out or some vandals shoot them out with guns. It's really a problem.

Bulb being replaced on Main St.

The new addition to the Royal Canadian Legion building in Haliburton will soon be completed and this is certainly a great improvement to the village. This will now give the Legion much more room and they will now be able to accommodate more people and more events.

We certainly have to wonder just how much longer draws for this and that are going to pay off. It seems to us that now practically every organization in Haliburton have a draw on this and that in an effort to raise money. Holding a draw is really a lazy way out without having to do too much work. It has now come to the time when there are so many draws that tickets are becoming very hard to sell. There is only so much money to go around and somebody has to be the loser. People are getting sick, sore and tired with the fact that every time they turn around someone is trying to sell them a ticket.

We would also like to mention here that Decoration Day at South Wilberforce Cemetery will be held this coming Sunday at 2 p.m. and the same applies at the Ingoldsbys Cemetery when it will also be Decoration Day with service at 2 p.m.

According to an article in the Toronto Star Matt Cravenn's bank roll was down to the 38 cents when he was called from his bartender's job at the Sutton Place Hotel in Toronto recently to learn that his first movie audition had landed him the featured role of Hardware in the Cinepix film, Summer Camp, which starts shooting in Haliburton August 10th. "It's the old Cinderella story," the 21 year old Niagara Falls native beamed, thinking of the $700 a week the work will pay him for the six-week

Farm news and views

The good rains received across this area a week ago should help to bring on the second growth on hay and pasture fields.

While some farmers will harvest this as hay, most farms will welcome this growth to supplement their pastures which have been heavily grazed during the drought.

Before you turn your cattle into a field of alfalfa or clover, remember that these crops can cause bloat. And with the value of cattle this summer, no one can afford to lose any animals through bloating.

Bloat usually occurs when hungry cattle are turned into an alfalfa or clover field, and allowed to fill up on the succulent and tasty growth. Gases are produced very rapidly in the rumen section of the stomach, and the animal is unable to remove them fast enough. The stomach becomes extended and takes up so much internal space the animal is unable to breathe, and death results quite quickly.

The key to bloat prevention is to try to keep cattle from over-eating pure alfalfa or clover when it is growing rapidly.

If there is a good mixture of grass with these legumes, the chance of bloat decreases.

Feeding some hay to the cattle before turning them into the field takes the edge off their hunger -- this is easier to do with dairy cattle than beef.

A pure stand of alfalfa or clover which is growing rapidly is the most dangerous. Try not to use such a field for pasture until the crop starts to blossom, and the growth has slowed down.

Remember, cattle can bloat very quickly -- if your cattle are on a pasture field which could be dangerous, keep a close eye on them, and be prepared to take action if bloat should occur.

Forage Seedings
The forage crops seeded last spring have suffered from the dry weather on many farms in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. A number of farmers have considered plowing up their seeding and replanting them.

With the rain we received last week, there could be a chance that some of these fields will come back. Farmers planning to plow up a field should wait for a week or two before taking action.

Because of the setback, all new seedings have received, they should receive careful management for the rest of this year. They should not be used for pasture this fall. An application of potash fertilizer, and if necessary some phosphorous fertilizer, before the end of August, will help the legumes survive the winter in better shape.

Do-it-yourself at the School of Fine Arts

Though most people come to the Highlands of Haliburton in the summer months because of its lakes, cottages and resorts, there are others who come for a different reason, and the money they spend while they are here makes a significant contribution to the economy of the county. This week, as the third article in the Echo's series on tourism, we take a look at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts, an institution that has been bringing people from across the province and beyond to the Highlands for some eleven years.

The School of Fine Arts has grown over the years, and this summer, some 460 students registered for the dozens of courses the school offered. They came to study such things as ceramics, weaving, painting, writing, photography, batik, pottery, jewellery, and a host of others. And this year, for the first time, the school branched out and offered courses in fields other than the arts. Both scuba diving and sailing, as well as gymnastics for children, proved to be popular courses this summer.

Most of the instructors at the school are Canadians, though others are brought in from the U.S. and Europe to teach specialized courses. And more than half of the people who take courses at the school return to take other courses in subsequent years.

Barb Bolin, administrator of the school, says the Haliburton School of Fine Arts is unique in the province, because it is the only summer school that offers such a wide variety of courses in the fine arts. And next year, the school may expand to accommodate classes not only for the serious amateurs who take courses now, but for professionals who want an opportunity to learn advanced techniques and to exchange ideas on their particular discipline with others working in the same field.

This week marks the last week of the school's summer program, though a number of courses will be offered in September as well. Echo reporter Joe Banks spent the morning viewing the classes that were being conducted last week, and the following is his report

by Joe Banks

It can come in many shapes, colours and sizes but it is unified in at least one respect. In its varied forms, art is a reflection of the individual artist's personality and his mood and his thoughts.

Quiet rooms filled with student artists at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School are evidence of this. Dedication and perseverance can be seen on the face of a weaver, a jeweller or a sketcher; they are people who love to make things with their own hands.

"You get absolutely marvellous ideas here," said Rachel Horne, a student enrolled in the jewellery making course at the school. It is the second time she has come to Haliburton to take a course at the school.

"I came again this year because I get the chance to develop my own ideas and listen to different instructors. The more you learn here, the more you want to learn - it's fantastic."

Horne said her interest in jewellery making began as a hobby, but she is now "turning it into a profession." She is one among many students who take courses at the school and later, after developing their skills, make an attempt to sell the things they make.

Nell Znamierowski, a renowned fashion and textile designer who was teaching at the school last week, feels that there is indeed a widespread interest among craft hobbyists to develop their efforts into a profession. That, she feels is why the Haliburton School of Fine Arts is an important institute in the community.

"The majority of students come here for enjoyment and relaxation, but there are some who develop their craft further until it becomes a profession. There's certainly beginning to be a more widespread desire to do this," she said.

Ted Carson, who taught spinning at the school, agrees with Znamierowski. People may have several different reasons for taking a course and developing skills but the main reason, he feels, is relaxation.

"There is an awful lot of professional people who take spinning, or other forms of craft. It's an unwinding type of thing. Nowadays, more and more jobs are so fragmented that people never feel satisfied with them. But with spinning they gain a sense of creativity - a sense of accomplishment in making something.

The jewellery making class at the school. Don Stuart, who instructed the course, feels that the students he instructs "inspire" him through their fresh and creative ideas.

Carson adds that spinning yarn and thread has its advantages over other crafts in that "the student can design his own yarn before starting on weaving or sewing. They don't have to walk into a store and settle for a compromise in the product - they can use what they made."

"Once you learn you can never really lose..."

Carson, who has a shop in Mississauga, feels that a craft, particularly spinning, is something that a person can pursue for a lifetime. "Once you learn the techniques, you can never really lose them. It's like learning how to ride a bicycle - once you learn, you never forget how. It's just the initial learning that could create some frustrations."

Spinning, Carson feels, is a craft "that has really grown over the last twenty years." There has been a marked revival in the ancient crafts such as weaving and spinning, in recent years, he says.

For any craft to be worthwhile to an individual, Carson feels, it has to have an ancient background or have "its roots in the past, but must be modern in its functioning. For instance, 8,000 years ago, people didn't have the many types of material that we have today. The students here are working with materials that their ancestors never had, and turning out much better quality work because of it."

Carson said. The teaching and educating side of the craft is something that Carson particularly loves.

"It really is a thrill when people take an interest in what you say and the ideas you get across. I like it and so do they. But basically, I guess I love the teaching aspect because I can inspire people to come out with some really great things," said Carson.

Jewellery instructor at the school, Don Stuart, feels the same way. "I love teaching the craft. I get so much inspiration from the students, that I can't help but come up with some new ideas. When they can't solve a problem, and I help them, it sparks an idea in me - the passing on of knowledge inspires me."

He believes that "it's great to see people who are really seriously interested in this sort of thing. There are people here who learn because they want to, not because they have to, as is sometimes the case in colleges."

People who are already knowledgeable in jewellery-making also enroll in the course, says Stuart, and he thinks that this helps everyone who is concerned in the course; the more knowledgeable students take pleasure in sharing their knowledge with others.

"Many end up getting their own studios after they graduate. That will usually be the result after putting a couple of years of learning about jewellery-making behind you," he said.

Znamierowski enjoys the teaching end of the craft for essentially the same reasons her colleagues do.

"I get a great deal of pleasure in seeing good students come out of the class. There are four in this particular class who are taking the course other than for pleasure - to become commercial weavers or designers. You get a feeling of pride watching someone make that sort of step into the commercial world because you yourself made that step at one time." Znamierowski uses herself as an example.

"The people who are more into it take time..."

"The people in the industries that I work for don't even know that I weave. They'll look at you and say 'Oh I didn't know you did that - how quaint or something like that. This happens despite the fact that weaving was a required course at the college I went to."

The particular craft that Znamierowski teaches, she believes, is a "very trendy craft." In the 60's and the early 70's she said, "there was a trend to 'let it all hang out'. There were those funky clothes and everybody wanted to finish them fast. Consequently, the clothes were very heavy."

"But today, the trend is now going back to the finer weaving. The people who are more into it take more time in their craft today."

Perhaps, though, what the Haliburton School of Fine Arts really does accomplish for its students is summed up in what a student who had taken the weaving course said.

"It's a place where you can finally get around to doing what you feel like you should be doing," she said.

Chatting with Irene

Rick Graham of New Westminster B.C. visited with his grandparents Mr. & Mrs. Taylor Kernohan recently.

Mrs. Madeline Staley of Windsor spent two weeks with the George Andersons recently.

Hey kids, did you know that Bo-Bo the clown is going to come to the County Fair on Sunday, Aug. 13. He isn't sure if he can get here for the parade on Saturday but if he can he will be in the parade and at the fair as well; but he will be here on Sunday for sure, so watch for him on the grounds for he wants to say hello to you all.

I told you last week that it would be busy-busy until Fair time didn't I. We were very busy last week but things were shaping up fine when we came home last Thursday evening so now this week the last minute jobs have to be done outside but we will be ready for Friday evening then the big days Saturday and Sunday.

Next column will be back to normal hopefully; so until we all see each other at the County Fair, Adios and take care now.

Haliburton Highlights

shoot. Two years ago he decided he wanted to make acting his career, so he enrolled in the first class of the new Weist-Barron school on Bay St. and borrowed a friends car to commute to classes every day. "I had just paid off the last of my bank loans, had only 38 cents to my name, and was wondering what was ahead, when the phone rang," he laughed.

We received word on Monday that Mrs. George Woods a former resident of Haliburton passed away at Drumheller, Alberta on Friday August 4th, leaving one daughter, Doreen and a son Brock. Neva as she was known to everyone was a former member of the Haliburton United Church having played the organ there for several years.

Paul Kovac a former sergeant in the communist army who served two terms in Communist prison for the preaching of the gospel will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Business Men hold their next meeting on Saturday, August 19th at 7:30 p.m. at the Haliburton High School. Born and raised behind the Iron Curtain, he is well acquainted with the sufferings of Christians there, and is considered an authority on the same. God gave to Rev. Kovac a dynamic and powerful ministry, and a great love and passion for the souls. God raised this young man to meet the needs of many. He has been preaching to thousands at a time. Come and meet the Lord in this meeting. Let the Lord supply your need whatever it is. Bring your friends and God will bless you. Free admission and everyone is welcome.
